

A scatter plot showing 100 data points. The points are colored based on their cluster membership: red, blue, and light pink. The points are distributed in a roughly circular pattern, with the red points forming the outer boundary and the blue and light pink points forming the inner core. The axes are labeled from 0.0 to 1.0.

01